Dear Tribal Housing Authorities

SUBJECT: Heating Green

Heating Green's infrared radiant heating products has continued to be the heating solution selected for many of The Lummi Nation Housing Authority projects for over the past 6 years.

We like the fact that the heaters can be applied for both multi-unit and single home projects, Heating Green has been helpful for a variety of floor plans.

Saving energy, the electric infrared radiant heating panels have cut utility costs for residents making them a preferable heating solution. For instance, the 16 homes built in the McKenzie Plat will save about $6,300 a year in utility costs with Heating Green's infrared heating.

The heating panels also offer zone controlled heat throughout residences making it easy for residents to adjust comfortable temperatures in each room. They also maximize valuable floor and wall space, as the panels are installed on the ceiling.

Heating Green has been a valuable resource for both retrofitting and new construction and is actively working with Lummi Nation Housing to meet its needs.

Projects projected for 2016:

- Retrofit projects: Balch Rd homes and the apartments at Smokehouse Village, 31 units total.
- New construction projects: Sche'lang'en Village, new duplex, triplex, and fourplex homes, 47 units total.

We are very pleased with the service and effectiveness of past projects, the Lummi Nation Housing Authority highly recommends Heating Green as a viable source for your heating comfort needs.

Sincerely,

Diana R. Phair
